OUR FACULTY

As we look at the happy faces of our faculty we know that all of the joy of the past year has not been ours.

First in line is Mr. Lightbody, our Superintendent. Through his untiring efforts the ruts and bumps of Senior Physics Class were made into sand-hills, easily destroyed. To him the Senior Class votes its sincerest thanks for his never failing interest as class adviser.

Latin students have found their work to be a pleasure under the guidance of Mr. Icenogle's capable hand. The Senior History Students are appreciative of the patient spirit displayed throughout the school year. May this spirit always prevail when he expounds history to future attentive classes.

Only those who have been fortunate enough to be in some of Miss Alexander's classes can know her real self. She is the only one who has taught during the entire life of K. C. H. S. and we all wish to thank her for the interest she has taken. Especially do the girls wish to thank her for the part she has taken in their athletics.

Little needs to be said of Miss Wiley and her work in the past year. "Actions speak plainer than words" is an old saying that can well be applied to her actions in the Domestic Science Classes. The exhibitions are proof of her interest in her classes.

To Miss Dundas, our good-natured English teacher, we owe our deepest gratitude. She always had a smile for every one and her reprimanding was so gentle that it was often difficult to heed her. Our school would never have been complete without her.

Last, but not least, is Miss Katherine Hursh, our music teacher. Though unable to have her picture we wish to show her a small part of our appreciation in some way. On those rainy dark days when it was so hard to sing she was always patient and ready to smile.

The above picture is of the northeast corner of the Domestic Science Room in the Kenney Community High School.

The coal stove in the alcove is used for baking, and the gas plates on the desks are used for individual cooking. On the left of the stove is the door leading into the dining room. Next year this room is to be completely furnished. When added, it will make it a fully equipped Smith-Hughes Domestic Science Laboratory.

The object of the course in cookery is to familiarize the student with the most healthful, attractive, and at the same time economical methods of preparing and serving such articles of diet as are found on the well-appointed table.

SALUTATORY

Friends, parents, and teachers, we, the graduating class of 1922, greet you.

We have prepared this program with the one thought, that it will be the last one we shall give in our high school career.

Twelve years we have studied, looking forward to this commencement night, and now that it is here we realize that we are stepping from our shelter into the world.

We are here to-night because our community made it possible for us to have good schools, because our parents made it possible for us to attend these schools, and because our teachers, so kind and willing, helped us win the many battles of school life.

For these we are truly grateful and we wish to thank you one and all.

Our class colors are yellow and white, our flowers are yellow and white rose buds, and our motto, with God's help may we always remember and live up to it, is "B2".

LOLA DAVIDSON.

"B2"

Miss Wiley: (in Cooking Class) "Why, Lola, don't you know what a finger bowl is? Didn't they have one the last place you ate?"

Lola: "No, I guess everybody washed before they came."

"B2"

Principal Lightbody just loves to hold himself up as a shining example, before his school; for instance: one day in Physics Class he told us that the only thing he could think of which came very near to being a perpetual motion machine was when some people's tongues were set in motion. (His tongue seemed to be the only one in motion just then, however.)

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Friends and Classmates:

It is with a feeling of pleasure that I stand here tonight as president of the graduating class of 1922, the class which has the privilege of being the first to graduate from this, our new building.

There seems to be a lurking regret, when we stop to consider that we are now leaving our Alma Mater; but mingled with that regret is a feeling of pride to know that we have gained here in K. C. H. S., that which will be a stepping stone to what ever success we may have in the future.

It seems altogether fitting and proper that we should take the opportunity at this time of extending our heartfelt praise and thanks to all of those who have, in any way helped us to get this building that we might have a better educational system and better advantages.

To our Faculty we wish to give our thanks for the patience and interest they have shown, and for the many useful lessons they have taught us.

We should also express our thanks to the underclassmen for the interest they have taken in our undertakings and the ever-ready cooperation which we have received from them throughout the year.

Then, we certainly must not fail to extend a countless number of thanks to our parents, who have done so much and made so many sacrifices that we might gain the best education within our reach.

I might say to the class that I feel it a great honor to be privileged to graduate from K. C. H. S. as president of the class. I also wish to express my one great hope and desire which is that in later years we may always remember our motto (b<sup>2</sup>) and in any and all undertakings always BE SQUARE with our fellow men.

NINA WARRICK.

CLASS HISTORY

The graduating class of 1922, consisting of nine girls and four boys, is the second class to graduate from the Kenney Community High School.

When we entered the Kenney High School as Freshmen, twenty-one members, nine of whom are graduating tonight, were enrolled. The others were: Thelma Gentry, Bertha Shepherd, Blanche Mills, Emily and Delta Kemp, Vernon Butler, Virgil Peters, Elza Kirby, Elmer Shepherd, William Duncan, John Eldridge, and Fred Whited. Our teachers were Mr. Joseph Ives and Miss Grace Sloan.

A short time after school opened our class was organized and the following officers were elected: Kittie Westlake, president; LeMira Luckenbill, secretary; and Vernon Butler, treasurer. Our class colors were maroon and gold.

Vernon Butler, Virgil Peters, Fred Whited, Blanche Mills, Thelma Gentry, and John Eldridge did not complete the first year's work. Both girls and Virgil Peters are now married. John Eldridge is attending school at Quincy, Illinois.

During the Sophomore year Raymond Crumbaugh, Ardayle Ballew, and Ruth Maurer enrolled. Kittie Westlake attended Mt. Pulaski High School this winter.

Those who did not finish the Sophomore work were: Elmer Shepherd, Elza Kirby, and Delta Kemp. William Duncan moved to Mt. Vernon, Illinois, in January, 1920, and will graduate from that school this month.

Mr. Guy W. Ireland and Miss Grace Sloan were the teachers. Miss Sloan was married during this term and is afterward referred to as Mrs. Sanford.

During the two years, 1918-1920, school was held in one room of the grade building. In the spring of 1920 the people of Kenney began work for a Community High School Building and bonds for such a building were voted upon and carried.

Kittie Westlake, Ella Stewart and John Carlson

THE "K"

entered our class in the fall of our Junior year. Ardayle Ballew did not return. Bertha Shepherd, now Bertha Nowman, did not complete the Junior work.

This was our first year in the Community High School, and we occupied the Jackson building now known as "Cantrell's Grocery". Our number of teachers was increased from two, to six. They were: Mr. Guy W. Ireland, Principal; Mr. Lynn Watson, Manual Training and Agriculture; Miss Dorothy Fultz, Foods, Clothing, and Latin; Miss Portia Alexander, Commerce; Mr. Paul J. Snyder, History and Science; Mrs. Grace Sanford, English and Music.

Work was started on our new building early in the spring of 1921.

In the fall of 1921, our Senior year, thirteen members were enrolled; Emily Kemp did not return for work as a Senior. The first three months of school were held in the Jackson building.

This year our faculty was somewhat changed: Mr. Ernest R. Lightbody, Principal; Mr. Wm. Icenogle, History and Latin; Miss Leona Dundas, English; Miss Ruth Wiley, Foods and Clothing; Miss Portia Alexander, Commerce; and Miss Katherine Hursh, Music.

On December 23, 1921, we dedicated our new building. On January 2, 1922, we started school work in it.

Our class was organized and the following officers elected: Nina Warrick, President; Hazel Bailey, Secretary; and William Jackson, Treasurer. Our class flowers are yellow and white roses, our class colors yellow and white, and our motto, B<sup>2</sup>.

The class of 1922 is the first class to edit a Kenney Community High School Year Book. To-night you see the thirteen members of that class. They are: Nina Warrick, Lola Davidson, Ruth Maurer, Ella Stewart, LeMira Luckenbill, Kittie Westlake, Hazel Bailey, Opal Simpson, Bessie Allsup, Raymond Crubaugh, John Carlson, Gerald Neely, and William Jackson.

THE CLASS OF '22

When we were in the Freshman Class,
To be a Senior was the wish of every lad and lass,
And since Fate has willed that this be true
You see our class of nineteen twenty-two.

There is Susie, with her dignified look,
And Ruth, who is like a girl in a book,
Opal and Bessie, our efficient school moms,
Spend Sunday evenings reading the Psalms.

Next let me introduce Nina and Kittie,
That they are going to be old maids is a pity.
Hazel and Ella, but I need not explain
For they are sure going to change their name.

Then come our model boys,
Who surely are their mama's joys;
John, Gerald, Raymond and Little Bill,
So arranged they form a perfect hill.

Now since we have all been presented,
And if the Audience, which looks so contented,
Wishes to remember the Class of '22,
Just buy a copy of The "K" and take it home with you.

LOLA M. DAVIDSON.

"B2"

Miss Dundas: (In English Class) "Bertie, what tense is this: 'I am beautiful'?"

Bertie: (instantly) "Past tense, of course."

"B2"

Mr. Icenogle: "Ruth, what is the writ of Habeas Corpus?"

Ruth: "I've forgotten what it were."

Hazel: "Why, Ruth! Didn't you ever take English? You should say: I've forgotten what it am."

THE "K"

SENIOR CHARGE

Our Senior Class of 1921-1922 is so far superior to any preceding class of K. C. H. S. that we want to caution and advise the next class to follow in our footsteps. This class is composed of the children, for they are merely that and not the adults that they consider themselves, whom, in the past year, we have known as the Juniors.

It is remarkable how exceedingly clever these Juniors think themselves. Wales, for instance, decided he knew all there was to be known about the essential subject of English and dropped it. We really think it was too difficult and took too much of his precious time.

Juniors, such people will never succeed as Seniors. Life's path is not all strewn with flowers. You must be able to meet hardships easily and readily to make your Senior records an honor to old K. C. H. S. as we have done. Please see that this insignificant Junior remedies his ways just for the sake of the Seniors of today. They do not wish to be humiliated by such acts.

Basket ball! Oh yes! Of course you Juniors would like to receive all the honors for the numerous games we won, but every one knows our star player came from the Senior Class. Your players would have been better had they not been so sure of themselves. Chester, for instance, was an excellent player but he tried to be too classical and often failed where our steady boys met success.

Self assurance is a very good thing, but remember do not be too sure. Our minds were often filled with doubt and look at our success.

You speak of Homer's playing. With his supernatural size he ought to be able to move any obstacle he might find in his path, nevertheless if his feet were not so enormously large, he would be considered more graceful.

Even the girls of the class are very conceited and try to appear so very modest and sedate, but I am sure

THE "K"

Dorothy and Cecil would be very delighted if they could but win a smile from some of the under-classmen. Our girls were always too busy for such things.

One thing that you positively must do is elect a new class president. You all know that your president, Ivan, has been a hindrance rather than a stepping stone to success. Of course his moody, pessimistic view may be accounted for by the fact that he lost his best girl friend, who happened to be a Senior. Our Senior girls are very careful in choosing their friends as all Seniors should be.

You have one man in your class you should be proud of. I refer to Wilbur. He is a wonderful athlete and we Seniors are proud of him. Even out of town girls have called him "a keen man."

Herbert is a most brilliant scholar. When asked to name the three periods of Shakespeare's life, he said, "Did Shakespeare live three times?" Herbert is a student his father should be proud of, because everyone knows no one else is.

Fern, we Seniors sincerely hope that when you realize the responsibility of a Senior you will become more dignified and not squeal at the least little thing. It really sets a very bad example for the under-classmen.

One would judge that Glen has always been his mama's pet, for he tries to be the pet of all the girls. He admires them all, from the Freshmen to the Seniors. It has been rumored that he would be a good singer if he would just keep away from the girls long enough to practice.

There is an individual who seems out of place among you Juniors, because of her bashfulness and modesty. I am afraid that Lola will never make a success in life if she does not learn to hold up for her own rights.

Our class does not have a slacker, but I am afraid you Juniors have. Fred has never taken any active part in the Glee Club, basket ball or anything. He seems to think his time can be spent to better advantage, by sitting drowsily around. I believe if the truth were known he is the least bit lazy and we have proof that he is absent minded, because he even lost his shirt with his English verse in its pocket.

THE "K"

Juniors, we Seniors wish you success in every undertaking and we hope you will profit by our well intended advice. When you meet with difficulties in your Senior year, just remember our motto B<sup>2</sup> and be benefited by it.

LEMIRA LUCKENBILL.

JUNIOR RESPONSE

In behalf of the Junior class of 1922, I wish to thank the Seniors for this rare bit of well intended advice. We appreciate the trouble you have gone to, but you have accomplished very little.

The Seniors began by calling us mere children. If we look like mere children, judging from some of their looks and actions, they must be our grandparents.

Wales, we acknowledge, did drop English, but he proved to us that he could carry it by taking it up again after a short rest. What he lacks in English, he makes up in Bookkeeping. If the Juniors are not capable of carrying English as you Seniors are trying to make it appear, we are all wondering how it happened that some of the Juniors made the highest grades that were made last semester in the Junior-Senior English class.

The Juniors are proud of their basket ball stars, even though the Seniors are inclined to think they have too much self-assurance.

If Chester is a "classical player" it would be well for the Seniors to copy after him, as he was good enough to be chosen Captain of the first basket ball team.

We are thankful for every inch of Homer's height as this is what makes him such an excellent basket ball star. It is very certain, the Seniors cannot challenge the Juniors with any better player.

THE "K"

It may be some of the Junior girls do try to be modest, but this is because they try to be as unlike the Senior girls as possible. As for them wanting smiles from lower classmen, there are several Senior girls who like to get smiles from some of those same basket stars that were spoken of before.

You say our President is not entitled to his high office? His sister is President of the Senior class and if you have met with success, why won't we? If it had not been for his energy and ambition you Seniors would never have received the royal reception which you did a few nights ago.

It sounds as though Glen had been staying around some of the Senior girls, and we do recall to our minds that he did sing for one of the Senior literary programs. But Glen does try to do his best in the Glee Club and this is more than any of the Senior boys do.

We realize Fred does not take part in athletics all the time, but perhaps this is because one of the Seniors wore his shirt home one evening while he was playing basket ball. The Juniors just supposed that certain Senior couldn't afford one as good but nevertheless, it caused Fred a big zero in English the next day because his memory passage which he was to learn that evening was in the pocket of his shirt.

We are all proud of our Junior class and we are not discouraged at what you have said about us. The Senior girls think they are superior to us but what would the girls basket ball team be without us? They may be superior in quantity as they say but not in quality.

We will not profit by your advice as well as by your mistakes which we have seen you make the past year, but we are only waiting for the year of 1923 to come to prove to you our high standing.

FERN COPPENBARGER.

SENIORS OPINION OF THE UNDERGRADUATES

To me has been given the unpleasant task of telling you what the Seniors think of the Undergraduates. Although I do not like to make public the faults of these pupils, it may lead to some improvement in their ranks. As it will be impossible for me, in the short time that has been given me, to tell all their shortcomings I will endeavor to tell only those which we have noticed principally in the years during which we have associated with them.

If the audience will look at the underclassmen and then at the Class of '22, now before them, they will see how many stages the Freshmen will have to go thru before they can begin to reach the heights which we have attained. Although it will be impossible for them ever to become so illustrious or noted as we have been, we hope that they will at least strive to do so.

I will now take up each class separately beginning with the Freshmen. Since one Freshman is just like every other, I will tell of them as a whole and not individually.

The Freshmen do not believe in studying. They are always complaining that lessons are too long, and their monthly examinations show how much time they have spent on them. They are very frivolous and think of nothing except having a good time. For this reason they will never succeed in life unless, like the Class of '22, they learn to devote their time not to midnight entertainments but to lessons and midnight oil.

The other day I found two little verses which express our opinion of the Freshies better than anything I could say.

"A Freshman was lost on a lonely isle
Where a Cannibal king held sway,
And they served him up to their chocolate prince
On the eve of that very day.
But alas for them for Heaven is just,
And before the dawn was seen,
They were suffering terribly from colic and

THE "K"

cramps,
For that Freshman was horribly green."

"A Freshman stood on a burning deck,
And from all that we could learn,
He stood there in perfect safety,
He was too green to burn."

The Sophomores are all undersized. They are really so small that were it not for one great fault they would be so insignificant it would not be necessary for me to mention them. This one great fault is their curiosity. One would have supposed this fault would have been overcome in their Freshman Year, but instead it has been retained and is now more marked than ever. Whenever a question comes up some Sophomore is always ready with a "why."

They are the most lightheaded pupils in school. They seem incapable of learning the simplest lessons. This is probably because their minds are taken up with new and more brilliant ways of entertaining the school. They are always trying to skip classes. At one time some members even spent an entire day in the attic.

Sophomores, you must realize that you do not come to school to skip classes and have a good time. If you do not, the hours spent here will be of no avail.

The Juniors are composed of ten boys and four girls. This probably accounts for the fact that their minds are always taken up with basket ball or some similar game. They think they are the stars of the school even though it is a well known fact that the Seniors won as many games as they. The chief fault with the Juniors is that they think they are cute. This conceitedness has spoiled them. The boys are always trying to do something original; either inventing a new laugh or a new way of shaking hands. They think they know more than anyone in school and it is their greatest delight to ridicule the Freshmen and Sophomores.

Our sympathy and pity goes out to these erring classmen now that we are leaving them. With deepest sorrow we say "Farewell." Who will now guide them on through the paths of darkness to the light? We doubt very much their ability to go through their high school career without our class to advise and direct them, but we hope that when difficulties arise in their way, they will recall how the Seniors of 1922 would overcome all obstacles in reaching the goal ahead of them. In closing I will recite this piece which describes accurately the classes of 1922.

THE "K"

"The Freshies flunked,
The Sophomores shirked,
The Juniors bluffed,
But the Seniors worked."

KITTIE WESTLAKE.

CLASS PROPHECY

"Yes," said the magician, "For five dollars I will look into your future and tell you what each of your old school chums is doing tonight."

I laid the five dollars in her palm and she began.

"In one corner of a beautiful rose garden are sitting two people, a man and his wife.

" 'William dear,' says the wife. 'Now that we are married I-I have a secret to tell you.'

" 'What, LeMira, dear?'

" 'Can you ever forgive me for deceiving you?' sobs LeMira, 'my left eye is made of glass.'

" 'Never mind dear,' soothed William, 'so are the diamonds in your engagement ring.'

"Ruth Maurer," continued the magician, "has just arranged to take a thorough course in roastology, bakeology, stickology, darnology, patchology, and general domestic houseology. She is to be married soon" explained this strange fortune teller.

"Raymond Crubaugh is a confirmed old bachelor. Tonight I see him sitting by a piano looking longingly and devouringly at a piece of sheet music entitled, "Almost Forgotten."

THE "K"

"Now let me take you to a wedding scene. The groom, John Carlson, has just been called upon to make his wedding speech. Putting his hand upon his bride's shoulder he hesitatingly remarked, 'Ladies and gentlemen, this thing has been thrust upon me.'

"Now his wife, formerly Kittie Westlake, is preparing a divorce suit.

"Going down Bloomington road I see a beautiful little red roadster. In it are two people, a man and his sweetheart. The woman, Ella Stewart, is pleading eloquently with her friend, Gerald Neely, to be allowed to run his darling little car. But Gerald, who esteems himself a great poet, replies:

To grace your queenly brow, Ella,
I'll buy the morning star;
But darned if I'll agree, Ella,
To let you drive my car.'

"Bessie Allsup is married to the famous Duke of Handover. So tonight I see her begging earnestly with her titled husband, but of no avail. She is forced to hand-over to her husband her weeks earnings, obtained by dancing at the zoo.

" 'Help! Help! Oh James, come quick. I'm dying. Hurry!' cried a woman's voice from within a fashionable house on Main Street. Inside I see the dying woman, Opal Simpson, dancing around wildly on the top of a beautifully polished table. Underneath her is a timid little mouse endeavoring to escape from his unwelcome surroundings.

"Lastly, I see Lola Davidson and Nina Warrick entertaining with a tea at "The Old Maid's Inn." They and their ancient friends are discussing a way to provide a home for the stray cats of the town. Lola suggests that they sell their jewelry."

To show my gratitude to the magician for this news of my old friends, I pressed another five dollar bill into her hand and departed.

HAZEL BAILEY.

SENIOR CLASS WILL OF 1922

We, the Senior Class of 1922 of the Kenney Community High School in the county of DeWitt, and State of Illinois, being of sound mind and memory, but mindful of the uncertainties of human life and being now about to make a journey in unknown regions of our future, do make, publish and declare, this to be our last will and testament, hereby revoking any and all former wills, by us heretofore made;

To the faculty we will our utmost appreciations for the help they have given us, that we might reach the goal toward which we have been struggling for four long years.

We give and bequeath to the School Board restful nights and peaceful dreams. No more will we humble our pride in asking; no more will they be pained to refuse, for it must have been hard to refuse such a throng of fair pleaders. How much easier it would have been for them and for us, if they had said "No," especially about having to speak on class day, for well they know how modest and bashful we are.

We leave to the Juniors the row of seats along the west side of the assembly.

Raymond Crubaugh wills his seat to Loren Watt, a place where all amusements can be seen.

Ella Stewart leaves her small loaf of bread to some member of '23 cooking class, and to Alice Staudt she leaves her ability to play the piano.

Lola Davidson leaves to Homer Bell her skilled art in drawing so that he may become a pattern for all in geometry class.

Hazel Bailey leaves her paint and powder to Dorothy Rowe. I guess Hazel thinks that her fortune is made.

Nina Warrick and Ruth Maurer leave the back seats to Scott Allen and Harold Dement, a place where stunts may be performed without sight of the principal.

Bessie Allsup leaves to Wales Aughenbaugh her ability to get to school on time. Wales seems to think he doesn't need it, but Mr. Lightbody thinks he does.

THE "K"

Gerald Neely leaves his wonderful ability in music to Ivan Warrick.

Kittie Westlake wills her English text to Wilbur Hunt so he may have a book both at home and at school.

LeMira Luckenbill leaves her pleasant smile to Glen Myers.

William Jackson leaves to Chester Neely his art in drawing comic pictures in history class.

John Carlson leaves his ability to set up experiments in physics lab. to Fred Whited.

Our further wish is that this, our last will and testament, be placed in the hands of trustworthy executors.

Therefore, we declare this to be our last will and testament made this 2nd day of June in the year of our Lord Nineteen Hundred and Twenty Two.

VALEDICTORY

In behalf of the graduating class of 1922, I take this, our last opportunity, to thank all who have helped us with our education.

We realize, as this program is finished, that our high school days are ended. When we, as Freshmen, entered high school, a four year course looked very long indeed, but now, when we look back over those years, it seems impossible that they should have elapsed so quickly. It hardly seems longer than yesterday since we began this course.

Almost every boy and girl has expressed, at some time, the wish that he or she did not have to go to school; and when our fathers and mothers have told us that some day we would be glad to think of the happy and useful hours which we spent in school, we probably smiled and continued to think that we would be glad to get out of school. But, now that we are bidding a last farewell to our Alma Mater, we begin to understand the views of our parents.

Even though there must be a feeling of sadness come over us, we are proud to know that we have mastered the required work in the high school curriculum.

We are finishing, yet beginning; and we realize that the education which we have just received will be a welcome help to us in the greater walks of life and in the tasks which lie open before us.

And now in bidding farewell to you, my classmates, I hope that we may long cherish the memories of our high school days, may always remember this occasion, and that such memories will kindle great ambition within us, and spur us on to live clean, worthy, straight-forward lives.

NINA WARRICK.

HISTORY OF THE JUNIOR CLASS

We graduated from the eighth grade in May, 1919, and entered upon our High School career the following September. We were initiated by a wiener roast (all Freshmen are). Our two outstanding characteristics this year were curiosity and modesty. We were just verdant enough to act as real Freshmen should.

All of us were promoted to the Sophomore Year and we gained several new members. This year we overcame our curiosity for we now knew all the mysteries of High School Life. Our modesty, however, we have retained and it has become our distinguishing trait.

Our Junior Year began in 1921 and this year we shone in athletics. One of our members was made Captain of the First Basket Ball Team and many others were Basket Ball stars.

We were prominent, too, in social affairs and to us must be given the credit for introducing the Junior-Senior Reception. We also entertained the school in an outdoor party.

At the first of the year the loyalty of the Juniors to their class was so great that many of them declared that they would rather forego the joys of promotion than leave it. Most of us have changed in that respect, however, and though we will always remember our Junior Year, we still hope to move our seats westward next year into that row which the Seniors leave to us.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS PROPHECY.

I was employed as a secretary of Charles Hughes at Washington, D. C., when Scott Allen, the office boy came running in with a telegram from Ruth Parks, my old classmate from Kenney, Illinois. She said that she wanted me to meet her on the noon train at the depot. I was certainly glad to hear from my old classmate, as I often think of the Sophomore class where Scott Allen, the office boy, furnished so much amusement.

I arrived at the depot in plenty of time to see Ruth get off the train. She said that she had been teaching the kindergarten class at the grade school in Kenney; but the day before, she had attended the wedding of Nina Opp and Harold DeMent. We all thought Nina looked for Milton Foster as her future husband, but he was engaged to Eva Greenslate. I was very glad to hear that Mildred Cantrell had prospered so much as to be teaching English in her old home town and that Ida Brelsfoard was teaching at a little country school.

We hurried home as it was now 4:30, and we had planned on attending a circus that night. We started early so we could get reserved seats. The first persons we saw were Bessie Myers, Bernice Todd, and Burnett Holtz riding beautiful white horses. We also saw Kenneth German the ring master, and Franklin Kemp, a clown.

After we saw all the performances we went out to see the side shows. We first went to see the fat woman and the slim man, who were Alice Staudt and Loren Watt. Both were formerly Sophomore students at Kenney. We then went to see the dwarf who was Beulah Gardner. After this we had our fortunes told by Mabel Tucker.

When we got home we decided we had spent a very enjoyable evening. Ruth then told me that Naomi Adams and Charles German; Ruby Simpson and Philip Kirby were recently married. She asked me what had become of Inga Jett and Paul Luckenbill. I told her Paul was County Superintendent of the schools of Sangamon County, and Inga was his secretary. She was very glad to hear that they had prospered so well.

THE FRESHMEN CLASS

Behold the Class of '22! This is hardly necessary, however, as everyone's attention has been gained by the quiet and content which reigns supreme in the eastern part of the Assembly Room. Although we are not as great in quantity as the Sophomores we are much greater in quality. Miss Dundas, our class adviser, is as proud of us as we are of her.

Our first event was a wiener roast which was given by the upper classes in honor of the Freshmen. Our second event was the dedication of our new High School building which took place just before the holidays.

Our class has only one Basket Ball star on the second team but he is good enough to make up for the members which we lack.

We are the very heart of the Glee Clubs and are also the most clever and learned of all the classes.

We are all longing for the time when we, as Sophomores, will welcome a more verdant Class of Freshmen to follow in our footsteps.

Although we are loyal to the Freshman Class I am sure that none of us will object to moving westward next year.

HIGH SCHOOL WIENER ROAST

On September 27th, the first social event of the year, our annual wiener roast for initiating the Freshmen and new members of the faculty, was held at Kirby's Lake. Such a wiener roast it proved to be. Of course every member of the faculty was right there and also a large number of students put in their appearance.

The Freshmen and faculty appeared the least bit bashful and the initiation stunts were not as successful as they had been in previous years, especially as those when we honorable Seniors were initiated into the mysteries of H. S. life, but then we could not expect other Freshies to be as clever as the class of 1922.

After the initiation came the big features of the evening, the huge bonfire and best of all, the eats. We dignified Seniors were horrified at the way those Freshies ate, but we were glad they enjoyed themselves.

Last, but not least, came our sing around the bonfire. We Seniors were very sad for we realized this would be the last time we would join with the underclassmen in singing the H. S. songs we loved, at the K. C. H. S. annual wiener roast.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

November 1, 1921

A little late, but better late than never, came our Hallowe'en party. For weeks before the party the campus was filled between classes with groups of students planning their costumes.

The party was given in the church basement on account of the incompleteness of our H. S. gym.

The church was very prettily decorated in orange and black, the chief features being black cats and jack-o-lanterns.

The evening arrived bringing with it a goodly number of gypsies, ghosts, clowns, negroes and many other characters well presented.

THE "K"

Of course a prominent place must be given the numerous Hallowe'en stunts which were performed by the faculty and different classes which kept every one in suspense and laughter.

No party could be complete without eats and ours consisted of a regular Hallowe'en fare, apples, pop corn and home made candy.

FAREWELL PARTY

On January 20th, the classes gave a party for Donald Blue, one of our most popular Sophomores, who was planning to leave us.

Donald had always taken a prominent part in our H. S. affairs and because we realized we were losing a helper we honored him with a party. At eight o'clock the faculty and a large number of students met in the assembly room.

The evening was spent in playing games and wishing our school-mate success and happiness in his new home and school.

Donald is now attending the H. S. of Hume, Missouri, and we are sure he will be as popular there as he was here.

APRIL FOOL PARTY

The April Fool party was given by the Freshmen, for the faculty and school. It was well attended even though the weather was very bad.

We were very surprised to find the Freshmen to be such royal entertainers. Every one was fooled several times, but the biggest joke was when we were told to search for our fortunes.

We departed at a late hour complimenting the Freshmen on their ability to entertain.

CARNIVAL

On March 10, the Senior class, with the help of the underclassmen, gave an indoor carnival.

Oh! What an abundance of fun and pleasure.

"The Siamese Twins", who were so very much alike; "The Spanish Dancer", who was so very gifted; "The Phenomenon", and "The Land of Joy", with all of their mysteries; "Kisses 2 for 5c", which gave all the boys a thrill; "The Wonderful Nazimova"; the exceptional ability of the cast of the "Minstrel Show", and the tempting eats, were the predominating features.

It was a great success and the Seniors felt rewarded for their efforts.

THE ROAD TO HAPPINESS

Is made more smooth by a substantial Savings Account. Money isn't everything, but it certainly helps us over the rough places in life. The Savings Account should be used as a Reserve Fund set aside for investment purposes or for severe emergencies.

Lincoln said:

"WE CANNOT ESCAPE HISTORY"

The history of the successful man invariably shows that he has been systematic in "money matters". He is a man who not only has a Savings Account with a strong bank, but whose thrift extends still further—he has a Checking Account. This account should provide a record of his earnings or receipts and of his expenses and general disbursements. You cannot escape History.
